Yakima Valley Libraries Partners With LiveMocha for Free Language Instruction to Our Patrons

Yakima, WA- Are you wanting to learn a second language? Brush up on your old language skills for a job or trip? Yakima Valley Libraries can help! We offer a number of databases free to our patrons with a library card, including LiveMocha, a language education service that recently merged with Rosetta Stone.

How can you utilize this free service? Check out our website at www.yvl.org and access the LiveMocha link, create an account on their database and enter your library card information to access the database under Yakima Valley Libraries account. You can learn a new language or brush up on your skills at no cost to you!

“Offering LiveMocha to our patrons at no cost to them is a direct reflection of the mission of the library. We work hard to support lifelong learning of all of our patrons and this is another opportunity for them to take advantage of. We look forward to continuing to bring these services to the Yakima Valley.” Kim Hixson, Yakima Valley Libraries Director.

Yakima Valley Libraries strives to support lifelong learning and an informed citizenry by providing free, open and full access to a vast array of ideas and information. We look forward to serving you.
